Relationship Mastery

1 Pattern Recognition: See It Before It Destroys It

"You can't change what you can't see." Relationships fail when we repeat unconscious patterns.

Identify the top 2–3 emotional patterns that show up when you argue (e.g., withdrawal, blame, sarcasm, avoidance). Circle which one causes the most disconnection, and write your commitment to break that pattern next time it appears.

Quick Prompt
When I feel hurt, my go-to reaction is Instead, next time I will

2 The S.E.W. Technique (Sensations, Emotions, Wants)

This is Tony's go-to tool for ending arguments and creating instant connection.

How to use it

S	Sensations Describe what's happening in your body ("I feel a heaviness in my chest").
E	Emotions Identify emotions from this list: Sad, Mad, Scared, Glad, or Excited.
W	Wants Clearly express what you want ("I want to feel close again," "I want understanding").

Your turn

🌙 Bonus Challenge:
Try a "5-Minute S.E.W. Check-In" nightly with your partner for one week.

3 Breaking Argument Cycles & Taking 100% Responsibility

"You can't argue with someone's experience." The secret to a great relationship is total responsibility for your own experience.

Action Challenge: For one week, commit to
No "you" statements ("You never…" or "You always…").
Only use "I feel…" and "I want…" language.
Use curiosity over correction ("Can you tell me more?").
When triggered, pause and ask yourself: What am I feeling? What do I need to own right now? What do I want to create instead?

30-second eye contact (no phones).
Hug until both people exhale.
Share one gratitude for each other.
